

Admiral Dewey's flagship was sighted on the 25th of September off New York harbor. History has been made since Admiral Dewey went to the orient. Often when least looked for events new and foreign to settled conditions in a nation come without invitation to shape its destiny. Strange it seems, when examined in the light of history, that a nation with giant strength should arise in a few years in the western world far removed from the place and scenes that make up the ancient history of the race and its associations, to establish by its prowess the nations that held its territory a few years ago in colonial relation.

Events connected with the United States have taken the form of the time—quick, large and, for the present, decisive, and should the march of progress continue for the next hundred years upon its present momentum, the question will be presented for solution: Is the earth large enough for man?

The future, as material advancement is now upon the world, is full of meaning to mankind, but there should be confidence in the ability and intelligence of the race to guide ever occurring a cautious that comes up for solution to a harbor where they will be secure under the care of intelligence, integrity and humanity against the innovations of a busy, bustling world.

Five years ago there was no expectation that the United States, whose territory was so lately held by the advanced nations in colonial relation, would in the near future become a four holder, and therein more particularly is the cause for astonishment to the nations. The relation is now to us, and there is something grand in the situation that brings to the fore the ambition of the ruling race, when nature is given freedom to assert itself, and we believe in letting nature have her way in connection with the Philippines, and for that reason we are of the class of Americans who believe in taking off our hat and yelling: "Hooray for Dewey and the Stars and Stripes!"

When a youth the writer was, in his imagination, on Fourth of July occasions, wrapped himself in the American flag and watched over the earth offering it to everybody as the only emblem of liberty and when the time has come when we have a real chance to give it to a people who need it, we believe in letting them have it in all of its fullness and glory.

IN THE LAW'S TOILS.

The Standard Oil Company has fallen victim of the anti-trust law in Nebraska, and now attempts to extricate itself from its unpleasant entanglement by sneaking: "I'm not a trust! I have papers to prove it!" This may be true. This colossal corporation, which made John D. Rockefeller the king of finance by destroying competition and forcing up the price of an indispensable commodity, may not be a trust, but by any other name it would smell as foul, and should by law have limitations upon its powers for evil.

When the California volunteers saved some of the citizens' committee of San Francisco made less elaborate preparations to receive the boys than they did to snub and turn down Governor Gage, but the executive bobbed up suddenly. Down in York State the same condition of things exists over the Dewey reception. The odds are five to one that they will be just as much of the show as it pleases him to be.

A BILLY'S ICHON penny-liner says the following: "Nothing could show the extent to which the head of Columbia has been turned by the war more than her adoration of the hero, Dewey. What did the hero Dewey and his comrades do?" etc., etc., no name. Let the gullible be kicked.

Midnight Bell.

L. R. Stockwell, one of the foremost comedians that the American stage has, and an enormous favorite in the chief cities of the east and west, will appear at McKiesick's Opera House on October 2nd, in Charles Hoyt's greatest scene "A Midnight Bell," supported by a strong company of recognized metropolitan artists. Mr. Stockwell enjoys an immense popularity and is recognized as one of the three most eminent comedians this country possesses, the other two being Nat Goodwin and Sol Smith Russell. His performances are delightfully unctious and he beats at his audience with a droll good nature that is irresistibly funny and places him immediately on good terms with them.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va.
About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since. A. "Correlation of Reading with Other Studies," Prof. Cushman of the State University and A. E. Kye of Verdi. Evening—Symposium: "Ethics," "Character Reading," Supt. Williams, Vice Superintendent Orris R. F. President J. E. Stubbs and Rev. F. Vernon Jones will make addresses. The exercises will be interspersed with music under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Layton.

Friday morning—General subject: "Arithmetic," led by J. E. Bray. Sub-headers: "Fundamentals," "Illustrated Work," "Percentage," "Practical Features in Arithmetic." Afternoon session—General topic: "Geography," led by A. E. Kye. F. A. Watt and A. E. Bough will discuss correlative subjects.

The question box will be a feature of this session.

The evening session will open with music and recitations. Dr. Stubbs will speak upon "The Relation of the University to the Public Schools," and farewell remarks by the Superintendent.

Resolution of Respect.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Reno Kindergarten Association at a special meeting yesterday afternoon: WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to take unto Himself our treasurer and friend, Miss E. C. Babcock, therefore be it Resolved That in the death of Miss Babcock this association and Kindergarten system of the whole country have suffered an irreparable loss. Her devotion to the school system, and to the Kindergarten in particular, led her to make great sacrifices for its success, and it is touching to remember that her last thought was of it and her last request to Miss Clapp was not to forget it. We mourn with the mourners and extend to Miss H. K. Clapp, her life long friend and companion, and to others who knew and loved her, the sincere sympathy of this association.

Resolved That this resolution be spread on our minutes and copies forwarded to the Gazette and Journal and copied forward to Miss Clapp, Mrs. Barnworth and other friends.

SOME ROTTEN RACING
AT THE CARSON FAIR

And Some Fairly Good Sport—A Resume of Yesterday's Events.

CARSON, Sept. 27th. Some of the racing to-day was good and some was absolutely rotten. The new starter appointed at last night's meeting gave perfect satisfaction.

Governor Sadler was in the judges' stand and to hear him say, "Bring on four horses," sounded O. K.

First race—Five-fifths, purse $75. Christine first, Grove O. second, Silver Maid third. Shamotte also ran. Time, 1:08 3/4.

Second race—Mile trotting and pacing, two in three, $100. It took three heats to decide this event. Flo and Mamie F. tied for second place. Maud Newman won. In the final run Flo took second money. Quibald was scratched and Mollie Norris was distanced in second heat. Time: 2:26, 2:26 3/4, 2:28.

Special race—Three-eighths, $50. Lady Newton won, Los Banos Kid second, Kathleen third. Time: 38.

Thursday is Virginia day, Friday Reno day, Saturday Nevada day. Professional cake walkers will give exhibitions on Reno day. There is no talk of bicycle races. From an agricultural point of view this race meet is as much a misnomer as the State fair.

A HEAP OF WORK DONE YESTERDAY

Board of Equalization Holds a Busy Session—Responses to Citations.

Yesterday's Board of Equalization meeting was a lively one. The following business was transacted: H. M. Yerington appeared before the board and asked that the assessment on the main line of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad be reduced $500 a mile. Action deferred.

Florence Littlefield asked by letter for a reduction of $250 on real estate. Improvements were cut down $200.

Mrs. J. T. Orr appeared in response to citation on J. T. Orr. The assessment was unchanged.

S. O. Wells appeared for the Steamboat Ditch Company. The reduction he asked for was taken under advisement.

Wm. Coppersmith's assessment will remain as it originally was. Three hundred and sixty dollars were added to C. Corrie's assessment on mortgages.

A. H. Manning's valuation will stand as assessed. He also appeared for S. W. Bowman, whose valuation was raised $900.

H. H. Greer will have to pay taxes on $1980 additional, this being on a mortgage of Martha Wetherbee.

W. O. H. Martin and C. T. Bender asked that assessment on the Washoe County Bank be reduced to $120,000. The request was taken into consideration.

M. E. Ward appeared for Ward Land and Stock Co. Assessment stands. There was added $780 to assessment of B. F. Sheldon on mortgages.

Theo. Winters' assessment of $2,600 on thoroughbred mares was cut in two. R. C. Moore appeared for the Union Building and Loan Association. Assessment was not raised.

Board adjourned to Monday.

Auditing Committee Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the State Agricultural Society Auditing committee at the office of the society in Washoe County Bank building on Thursday, September 28th, month present at 11 o'clock A. M. on that day to pass on and audit claims against the society connected with the late fair.

Attempted Robbery.

At noon yesterday another attempt was made to rob the home of County Recorder Seneer on Second street. Mrs. Wenworth, a member of the family, discovered Mr. Burglar in the act of entering the house via a window. He beat a hasty retreat.

A Conservatory.

Visitors to Reno admire the tasteful display of flowering and foliage plants in the Western Union office. Mrs. T. H. Brown, wife of the manager of the office, arranged the display.

The good ship Ohio, freighted with the pride of Nevada, swings in the tide of Manila bay, awaiting the final orders to leave anchor and catch the tow line. Perhaps even now it is upon the open sea with its prow turned toward the land of home, leaving a line of smoke pointing back to noisome swamps and bloody battle fields.

To the good ship Ohio we say: "May favoring breezes blow and placed seas prevail until you are safely harbored in the port of San Francisco."

Nevada will welcome back her sons with feasting and illuminations, with cheering voices and tear wet cheeks. She cannot do too much for those who offered to their country all they had—heartily into the spirit of the occasion. He is now preparing a proclamation in which he will call upon the people of Nevada to open their hearts and purse strings that the Sagebrush commonwealth may honor itself in honoring its boys.

Subscriptions will be obtained in every county to provide the fatted calf and "fixine."

The soldiers will have the first installment of their greeting when the big transport lies to off quarantine. The Governor and Adjutant-General of Nevada and a delegate from the Reno Red Cross Society will meet the boys and tell them what they think of them. It is part of the plans now somewhat immatured, to save the soldiers that long march to the Presidio after the cramped quarters 'board ship.

Carriages will be in waiting and there will be regular sagebrush style about the procession out to the reservation.

If the boys need or even think they need anything, whether it be a plug of tobacco or an umbrella, the committee will see that they get it.

But all this will be simply a certain raiser to good times in store for them when they reach the Riverside Town—but that is another story.

When war's alarms first sounded, the youth and some of the gray heads of this State wanted to take the field. As Captain Cox remarked: "If all that caught the war spirit had been enrolled and sent against the Spaniards, woman suffrage would have to be adopted in order to hold our election in the State."

However, Uncle Sam only wanted so many soldiers and Nevada's quota was but a handful. She furnished them. The boys swarmed around the muster roll like politicians at the pie counter.

Under the first call 24 men and officers was our allotment. One hundred and thirty six men signed the rolls before it could be taken away from them. In exactly two weeks this outfit of fire eaters was journeying eastward. It was assigned to Second United States Volunteer Cavalry after wards known as Troop M, Rough Riders, having in command Colonel Jay L. Torrey of Wyoming, Captain W. L. Cox of this city, First Lieutenant Gracey of Virginia and Second Lieutenant Henderson of Elko.

The first stop was made at Fort Russell near Cheyenne, but soon a move was made toward the seat of war. Troop M never had an opportunity to show its metal but was mustered out in Jacksonville, Florida, October 24th, 1899.

It had the distinction of being the only company in the regiment that did not lose a man by death.

Under the second call the First Nevada Volunteer Cavalry was quickly enlisted. The roster appears in this issue.

There was still a heap of pent-up patriotism in the State. A lot more of the boys were spilling to scrap the Spanish so Governor Sudler and Congressmen Newlands made an appeal to the powers that be, with the result that the First Nevada Battalion was called for. Four companies were raised. They were equipped and drilled at Carson, waiting for the summons to the front which never came. The battalion was officered by Major Morrison of Virginia, Acting Adjutant C. M. Stone of Carson, Captain S. C. dard of Reno, Captain Calhoun of Virginia, Captain Carney of Carson and Captain Saunders of Elko.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, trousers and undershirts.

I am pleased to say that I have secured the Henry Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.
